SCHOOL TAX TO BE SIX CENTS HIGHER

Increase in Rushville Regarded Small in View of Decreased Valuations and Improvements

BOARD PREPARES A BUDGET

Actual Amount to be Raised Only $1,307 Greater Than This Year—Courses Are Extended

The Rushville school city's tax rate for next year will be six cents higher than this year, according to the budget and tentative tax levy, which has been drawn up by the city school board.

The estimated expenses for next year will be only $1,307.00 greater than the sum raised in taxes by this year's levy, but the higher rate is necessary on account of a decrease of $27,921.00 in the valuations of property upon which the taxes are levied.

The city school board will meet Monday afternoon, September 8, the day the schools open, at four o'clock to take final action on the proposed budget and levies for the various funds.

If adopted as now proposed, the city school tax will be 92 cents and it will raise $69,219.21. A levy of 86 cents this year is producing $67,912.21.

In view of numerous items in the school budget, calling for increased expenditures, the increase of six cents is regarded as small, especially when it is considered that the valuations for next year have fallen off almost $300,000.

One teacher has been added to the high school faculty for the coming year and three of the city's five school buildings have been repainted. Modern power machinery has been installed for manual training at a cost of $800 and some courses of study have been extended.

Home Economics has been placed on a vocational basis and the physical training course has been enlarged so that it will be available to all high school boys and girls. A course of French has been added and will be offered to juniors and seniors. Besides this, the school authorities find it necessary to buy some library books to comply with an order of the state high school inspector.

The school board budget shows that $20,575 will have to be raised for the special school fund, from which are paid the operating expenses of the schools. The budget calls for the raising of $42,922.00 for the tuition fund, which is for the purpose of paying teachers' salaries. The sum of $6,617.76 is needed in the bond fund to meet fixed charges of $5,500 in school bonds falling due and $400 interest.

Comparison with past years reveals that the school expenses of the city have increased very little, because in 1923 the total amount raised by taxes was $68,662.79 and in 1922, $65,245.27.

Rushville does not suffer by comparison with other school cities; in fact, is far below the average for Indiana. Most of them are above $1.00 a hundred, the average for a group of thirty selected cities being $1.29 in 1923.

Connersville's rate last year was $1.38; Munroe's $1.03; Newcastle's, $1.15; Valparaiso's, $1.81; Richmond's $1.28; Wabash's $1.10; Shelbyville's, $1.05; Bedford's, $1.57.

MAN ARRESTED HERE FINED

Colonel Hall Will Have to Spend 110 Days in Penal Farm

Colonel Hall, a young man who was employed in this city, and arrested Monday on a complaint from Greensburg charging him with passing a bad check was arraigned in Mayor Jenkins' court in that city Thursday and was fined $130 and costs, amounting to $140.

He was taken to the state penal farm upon failure to pay, and will spend 110 days at the farm. The check was for $5 and given to a taxi driver of that city. The court in Greensburg is not as lenient as the mayor's and justice of the peace courts here on bad checks, and a few sentences will put a stop to the practice. Hall stated that his home was in Connersville.

Recognition As Hog Production County Sought With Fair Exhibit

Rush county will make its bid for recognition as the leading hog production county of the world with an extraordinary exhibit at the Indiana state fair in Indianapolis next week. The display was being set up in the agricultural building on the state fair grounds today by Rushville men and will be in readiness for the opening of the fair Monday morning.

Rush county will compete for a first prize of $200 against a number of other Indiana counties, the prize to be awarded to the county that makes the best showing on its principal agricultural product.

The display was prepared by a committee from the Better Rush County organization, in co-operation with Herschel VanMatre, county agricultural agent, and represents many weeks of hard labor on the part of the committee in an effort to bring the prize back to Rush county.

The exhibit has been practically complete for three weeks and a number of persons have been permitted to view it and see the mechanical apparatus in operation.

During the week of the Rush county teachers' institute, the teachers of the county were taken to a room on the second floor of the court house, where the display was set up, and it was operated for their benefit.

Will O. Feudner, a member of the state fair exhibit committee, explained to the teachers the purpose of Rush county laying claim to the credit for being the champion hog producing county of the world and impressed upon them how valuable their co-operation would be in teaching their pupils that Rush county had advantages not to be found any place and that it was a fine place to live.

He emphasized that the Better Rush County organization is interested in the school boys and girls, recognizing them as the greatest asset the county has, and wants to make Rush county a better and more attractive place to live, so that they will be induced to remain here after completing their education.

The school teachers were enthusiastic about the exhibit and the purposes of the organization and promised that they would aid with the best of their ability in helping the organization to achieve its aims.

Several Rush county hog breeders, while holding a meeting here a few evenings ago, were shown the display in operation and they were greatly enthused over the prospect of Rush county being placed "on the map" at the state fair.

The exhibit sets out in bold letters, as the picture above discloses, that Rush county leads in hog production, marketing 200,000 hogs annually. A large check is reproduced, setting forth the fact that Rush county farmers receive $3,000,000 annually from the sale of hogs.

Immense panels on either side are connected by a train operated electrically, representing a six-car train of hogs leaving Rush county for the principal livestock markets of the midwest every eighteen hours. One panel is a map of Indiana and the train, in its circuit, emerges from Rush county on the map, and disappears in the panel on the other side, which is a market scene. Above the hole through which the train passes are painted "Indianapolis, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburg and Cincinnati." On the arch on which the train travels are set out a few essential facts about Rush county hog production as follows:

"90% Rush County Hogs Pure Breed, Home Grown Feeds, Intelligent Management, Balanced Rations Standard Market Types."

In panels below the market scene it is stated that "Rush county produces 3,699,300 bushels of corn annually" and that "Rush county feeds 500,000 people every year."

At the foot of the arch are photographs of the two champion ton liners in the state last year—the heaviest litter raised by Chester Meal of Orange township, and the first ton Elmer Bassett of Shelbyville.

DELEGATION OF 26 FROM HERE ATTENDS

Annual Meeting of Rotary Clubs of Group Six is Held at Clifty Falls State Park

RESPONSE BY W. O. FEUDNER

A delegation composed of twenty-six persons, all members of the Rushville Rotary club, and their wives and children, attended the annual meeting of Rotary clubs of group six at Clifty Falls, state park, Thursday.

A fried chicken dinner was served for the visiting Rotarians and their guests at the new Clifty Inn, which was formally opened this week, and during the afternoon, the visitors were taken on many of the interesting trails through the state park.

A short program was followed after dinner, at which Robert Huen of Richmond, governor of the Indiana Rotary district, made the principal address. Will O. Feudner, of this city, former group representative, responded to the address of welcome by Robert Ireland of the Madison club, which acted as host for the group meeting. John Nutter of Jeffersonville, who succeeded Will Suckow of Franklin as group representative, spoke briefly, and Mr. Suckow presided.

The invitation of Shelbyville to hold the group elimination in the state rotary golf tournament was accepted.

WHEELER SEES BLOW AT THE THIRD PARTY

Candidate for Vice President Refers to New Charges by George Remus, Ohio Bootleg King

RETRACTION NOT FORCED

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 29.—A blow to discredit the independent ticket lies behind the new charges of George Remus, Ohio bootleg king, it was declared here today by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, vice presidential candidate with Lafollette.

Remus in a sworn statement is credited with having repudiated his former statements made before the Wheeler investigating committee involving former Attorney General Daugherty.

The "Daugherty Gang" is charged by Wheeler with having instigated the new move of Remus and the vice presidential candidate called upon President Coolidge to oust from office the remainder of the Ohio crowd.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 29.—A. E. Sartain, warden of the Atlanta Federal prison, today denied charges of Senator Burton K. Wheeler, that he "forced" an affidavit from George Remus, millionaire Ohio bootlegger, to retract his testimony before the Daugherty investigating committee.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES FOR FALL DISCUSSED

Large Committee is Appointed Thursday Night to Make Final Canvass September 8

FIRST BAPTIST MEETING

An important business session was conducted following the prayer service of the First Baptist church Thursday night. Plans were laid looking forward to the fall and early winter activities of the church.

A supper will be spread in the basement of the church on Thursday night, September 8, and the entire membership of the church is urged to attend. At this time several matters of vital interest to the church will be presented for the discussion of the entire membership.

The date for the annual financial canvass was set as Sunday, September 14, and a large committee was appointed to conduct the canvass.

Three delegates, beside the pastor, were elected to represent the church in the East Central association meeting at Richmond next Thursday. Three additional delegates will be chosen at a called meeting at the close of the Sunday morning service.

Kept Promise!

It's beginning to look like James E. Ferguson's promise to his dog is going to come true. When Jim was impeached as governor of Texas eight years ago, the dog, then only two years old, seemed disconsolate as the rest of the family in leaving the capital at Austin. "Never mind," Ferguson told him, "you'll live to see the Fergisons in the governor's house again." And now Ferguson's wife, Mrs. Miriam E. Ferguson, has won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination—and her fight for "Jim's" vindication. And since Texas is a Democratic state her nomination practically means election. Here "Ma" Ferguson is seen with "Jim's" dog.

PRINCE SETS FOOT ON AMERICAN SOIL

Welcomed From Air, Land and Sea. Young Heir to British Crown Lands This Afternoon

FIRST WORD FROM COOLIDGE

Public Welcome Impossible in New York as He Lands on Long Island in Private Launch

(By United Press)

New York, Aug. 29.—Officially and unofficially welcomed in messages from air, land and sea, the Prince of Wales reached America today.

The sun-flecked waters of New York Harbor reflected a perfect August sky as the giant Cunard liner Berengaria brought the young heir to the British crown to quarantine.

The first official word of welcome was a wireless message from President Coolidge, transmitted from an airplane which soared high above the liner as she nosed her way in.

A public welcome such as would have been his had he come to the city was impossible because the Prince, after acknowledging the official greetings, had arranged to assume an unofficial holiday role and go without ceremony to Long Island in a private launch. Only in the eager and incessant comment that ran from mouth to mouth—in the numerous pilgrimages to Long Island for a glimpse of Wales passage along the motor-choked highways from Oyster Bay—was the public able to express its excitement and pleasure that the most interesting personality of the old world, from the standpoint of the new, had arrived.

For a time, America is to see little enough of the prince for final plans—final unless he himself countermands them—are such that with exception of those who caught a glimpse of him landing at the little Long Island town of Oyster Bay late this afternoon, it will be the people of Washington who first will get a good look at this winning young man with the most interesting prospective job of the old world and the spirit of the new.

UNION SERVICES AT CHURCH

Union services will be held next Sunday evening, at 7:30 at the Main Street Christian church, instead of the coliseum, as previously announced. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Henry W. Hargett, of St. Paul's M. E. church. Special music will be rendered by Mrs. Neff Ashworth, Dr. Hale Pearsey, Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Hogsett.

GEORGE LOONEY HURT IN FALL

George Looney is suffering from injuries he sustained in a fall on his farm Thursday, and is confined to his bed at his home in North Main street. Mr. Looney was attempting to climb over a fence, when he lost his balance, and fell heavily to the ground. Although no bones were broken, he suffered bruises and was considerably shaken up.

DAWES LANDS IN ENEMY TERRITORY

Republican Candidate for Vice President Prepares to Strike First Blow For Farmer Vote

SPEAKS AT LINCOLN TONIGHT

Fact That He is Invading Home of Democratic Opponent Lends Color to His Visit

By H. R. COX
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 29.—Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice president, arrived in Lincoln—heart of the enemy territory—at 10:15 today prepared to strike the first blow in his campaign for the farmer vote.

He will be a home coming trip, in part, during which he intends to tell folks who knew him 35 years ago as a struggling young attorney in Lincoln what he has done that entitles him to their votes. In a larger way his trip is the first step in the drive his party is making to win the wheat and corn belt—center of agricultural discontent—and by that token one of the Coolidge administration's greatest worries.

The fact that he was invading the home of Governor Bryan, Democratic presidential candidate to fight against him added color to the trip. General Dawes starts his fight to win the west on the same platform where Governor Bryan formally accepted the Democratic nomination a few weeks ago.

Plans for the general's stay in Lincoln include only one scheduled speech. This speech is tonight. Several extemporaneous addresses seemed probable, however, in spite of the general's resolution before he left Chicago last night "to take things as easy as they will let me."

Visits with friends, many of whom were in the crowd that gathered at the station to greet him today, also were included in the plans.

EIGHTH STREET IS BLOCKED FOR PAVING

Excavation is Begun for Paving of Short Stretch Connecting Brick With Cement Road

5TH STREET JOB TO BE RUSHED

Work of excavating in East Eighth street, between the city limits and past the Catholic cemetery, is now under way, and the street leading out that way has been blocked to traffic, causing a detour on the Ft. Wayne road.

The contractors expect to rush the concrete paving through and it will be open for traffic soon. The street is blocked at the extreme end of Eighth street, and traffic should go out Eleventh street to avoid the detour.

The steam shovel for excavating Fifth street was to arrive this afternoon and work will start at once on paving this street. The contractors expect to excavate and lay the concrete foundation without delay, and the asphalt layer will be applied on Morgan street and Fifth street at the same time.

The first official word of welcome was a wireless message from President Coolidge, transmitted from an airplane which soared high above the liner as she nosed her way in.

A public welcome such as would have been his had he come to the city was impossible because the Prince, after acknowledging the official greetings, had arranged to assume an unofficial holiday role and go without ceremony to Long Island in a private launch. Only in the eager and incessant comment that ran from mouth to mouth—in the numerous pilgrimages to Long Island for a glimpse of Wales passage along the motor-choked highways from Oyster Bay—was the public able to express its excitement and pleasure that the most interesting personality of the old world, from the standpoint of the new, had arrived.

In the routine of business, the club voted to purchase one of the pedestal light posts that will be erected along Memorial Park boulevard. The club is among the first to make a definite decision on the matter.

Pledge cards have been printed and work of pushing through the guarantors for posts will be actively started next week by the committee. It is expected that between 30 and 40 posts can be acquired, so that the boulevard can be lighted as a "great white way."

WEEKLY TRAFFIC BULLETIN GIVES THE CONDITION OF STATE ROADS

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29—The narrow, one-way bridge over the Wabash railroad, north of Attica on State Road No. 10 is being razed to make way for a modern grade separation, and soon this traffic hazard will be eliminated, it was announced today by John D. Williams, state roads director, in the commission's traffic bulletin.

Williams called attention that while traffic is using pavement all the way between Indianapolis and Kokomo on No. 1 by aid of two road-side run-arounds at bridge projects near the Hamilton-Tipton county line, it is best to take the detour after heavy rain as these run-arounds will be hard to negotiate. Under ordinary conditions proceed straight through on the pavement.

Detours on No. 21 at Chester account of new bridge work will be lifted on August 29.

State road conditions for the week of August 29—September 5 are set forth in the bulletin as follows:

C. I. & W. HAS HEAVY FREIGHT BUSINESS

Railroad Reports Prosperous Summer and Anticipates Heavy Traffic During the Winter

STOCK SERVICE IS FEATURE

A heavy increase of freight business is being noticed daily on the C. I. & W. railroad, and the stock shipping service is taking rapid strides, according to local agents along the line.

The railroad has ordered new equipment, which is now being delivered and other equipment is under construction. The railroad is hauling from 15 to 40 cars of stock from Indianapolis to Cincinnati, Wheeling and other eastern points, on the new fast daily freight service.

Arlington and Rushville both report much stock business to eastern points, and during July alone, 75 cars of stock were handled from this city for points east. The company has already received three of the eight new passenger locomotives, and the passenger engines now in use will be transferred to the fast freight service. Three hundred box cars and 200 coal cars are under construction. Two gravel trains are being run daily putting on new gravel in anticipation of heavy business this winter.

The C. I. & W. recently inaugurated a manifest run from Springfield, Ill., to Cincinnati, leaving the former place at one o'clock in the afternoon and arriving in Cincinnati at six the next morning passing through here at midnight. This train carries nothing but perishable goods, stock, fruit and meats.

OPEN HOUSE ON SHRINE PROGRAM

Indianapolis Mystic Shrine Extends Invitation to State-Fair Visitors Next Week

AT THE MURAT TEMPLE

Visitors Welcome to Rest and Participate of the Hospitality That Will be Offered

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29—The Arabic shiekh are unlatching the portals of their tents in the oasis of Indianapolis and the minaret of Murat temple is calling a repetition of the invitation broadcast by the Potentate, Charles J. Orbison, for all and singular to be guests of the local temple of Shriners in their "open house" hospitality running three days next week. The dates are Sept. 2, 3 and 4 and the hours are from 2 until 9 p. m. each day.

"We just want to be hospitable" Potentate Orbison says. "There are no strings on this invitation. If state fair visitors are tired of hoofing it around, or can't find a place to park themselves, let them come up to Murat temple and enjoy our luxurious divans. Let them see the entire temple thrown open for their inspection and a large reception committee, eager to grasp their hands and make them welcome."

Orbison says he has had inquiries from various parts of the state to this effect: "What's it all about, Judge?" He answers: "It's just this—Murat temple of the Shrine is perhaps the biggest single fraternal body in Indiana. It is sixth in point of membership strength in all Shrine-dom, having nearly 11,000 members and nearly half of this membership is scattered throughout Indiana and elsewhere. We are not only inviting our own membership but Masons who are potential and prospective Shriners. Then we are going a bit further and extending the invitation to everyone who may be interested. We are proud of our recently enlarged mosque and hope to spread this production generally throughout the state. That's all there is—there isn't any more."

Man's "Appeal"—O Lord, revive thy work in the midst of the years.—Habakkuk 3:2.
Prayer:—

And hungering for the Bread of Life,
O may our Spirits be."

The Great Week in November

The American Legion, the National Education Association, and the United States Bureau of Education are cooperating to bring about the observance of American Education Week by all the people so far as possible. The dates for this year are November 17 to November 23, inclusive. It is hoped that at least some part of the program will be observed in every church and schoolhouse in the land. The exercises will be held morning, afternoon or evening as each community may prefer. The published program is merely suggestive and will doubtless be changed in many ways to meet local conditions.

Constitution Day, Monday, November 17, is designated as Constitution Day, the central idea being: "The Constitution—The Bulwark of Democracy and Happiness."

Patriotism Day, Tuesday, November 18, "The United States Flag is the living symbol of the ideals and institutions of our Republic."

School and Teacher Day, Wednesday, November 19, "The Teacher—the guiding influence of future America."

Illiteracy Day, Thursday, November 20, "Informed intelligence is the foundation of representative government."

Physical Education Day, Friday, November 21, "Playgrounds and athletic fields mean a strong, healthy nation."

Community Day, Saturday, November 22, "Service to the Community, State, and Nation is the duty of every citizen."

God and Country Day, Sunday, November 23, "Religion, morality, and education are necessary for good government."

The tentative program and other material prepared for convenient use Education Week will be mailed free on request to Bureau of Education, Department of Interior, Washington, D. C.

The "Other Fellow"

About 15,700 lives were lost in motor vehicle accidents (exclusive of grade crossing collisions between motor vehicles and trains) in the United States during 1923, an increase of nearly 2,000 over the 1922 record. Grade crossing fatalities make a total exceeding 17,000. This estimate was made by the National Safety Committee of the Automobile Department of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters on the basis of statistics of 125 cities.

It may be all right to insure your car against fire, theft, collision, public liability and property damage, and so long as the accident which may be due to your carelessness merely hurts the "other fellow" you let the insurance company worry about the cost. But if you happen to be the "other fellow", insurance collected by your heirs may not help you in the place to which you go. No insurance has yet been found which will prevent death and injury; hence it pays to be careful.

ONE BEAUTIFUL FEATURES OF THIS CAMPAIGN

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Arthur Capper's record-breaking victory in the recent Kansas primaries presents a specific case for the political analysts to dissect in their study of comparative Coolidge and La Follette sentiment in the great agricultural mid-west.

Capper, leader of the "farm bloc," which preceded the "La Follette bloc" in the Senate, was renominated by the Senate for the biggest lead ever given any candidate for any office at a Kansas primary.

This, in a campaign where the cry of the opposition was that Capper should be defeated because he "has not supported the president."

Capper has been one of the most active critics in the Senate of the Esch-Cummins railroad law. He remained "regular," however, in the fight, led by the La Follette forces, to oust Senator Cummins from the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce Committee. But he helped overthrow the presidential veto on the bonus bill and opposed the Mellon tax bill, indorsed by the president.

Appointment can be secured only through open competitive examination and no school can cause a competitor to be certified for appointment out of the regular order, as determined by examination rating.

A PRECEDENT for the recognition of "mitigating circumstances" in the conduct of persons arrested as "mashers" was established by Washington police judge the other day.

One of the capital's demure, uniformed policewomen, while loitering leisurely in the neighborhood of Peace Monument, was accosted by an "anti-sheik" who suggested a little spin around the Spouse.

Disdaining his advances, she moved away. Half an hour later, on a corner two or three blocks distant, the same usher renewed his attentions.

Spurned again, he tried a third time for luck little later.

The minion of the law, who had taken the young man's license number, swore out a formal complaint and he was haled to court.

But the judge—well, as nearly as he could sense it, he said, the policewoman, by loitering along the street, had invited the usher's attention and got only what might have been expected. Case dismissed!

Another extent it was anti-Coolidge, it is viewed as probably actively for La Follette. To the extent it was simply pro-Capper, it is looked upon as receptively inclined to "Independent" proposals.

To whatever extent it was anti-Coolidge, it is viewed as probably actively for La Follette.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S. S. S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S. S. S. at once, and give your self what you have been working for, for years.

BRILLIANT PLAY
SEEN IN MATCHES

Harold Titsworth Eliminates Brother Russell Titsworth, in First Tilt of Tourney Today

COUNTY TENNIS PLAY IS ON

Pitman Proves Stumbling Block for Herman Phillips, Noted Track Star, Winning Match

Brilliant play featured the opening matches in the first round of play in the open county tennis tournament that started on the Memorial park tennis courts Thursday afternoon.

The playing opened with a singles match between Robert Walton and Barton Cartmel, with both players heartily contesting every point. The first set went to Cartmel 6-4 and Walton reversed the situation in the next set, winning it 6-4. In the last set the battle really began and after a long drawn out set, Cartmel eliminated Walton by taking the third set 13-11. Both players put up consistent tennis at all times.

The next match on the card was played by Franklin Martin of Raleigh and Loren Winkler. Martin was victor in the first set, 6-4, but had considerable difficulty in taking the match, going 9-7 in the second and deciding tilt. Spirited smashing at intervals was witnessed throughout, many of which were netted.

In the third contest of the afternoon between Gordon Aronkile and Laverne Newkirk, was seen some of the best tennis of the day. Newkirk, profiting by several errors by Aronkile and brilliant driving captured the first set 7-5, but in the next set, Aronkile with more accurate placing and driving emerged victor of the set 9-7 after Newkirk had victory in his reach several times. The match had to be called off here on account of darkness and will be finished later.

In the early play today, Harold Titsworth defeated R. Titsworth in a fast tilt. H. Titsworth took the first encounter without much trouble, 6-3 but in the second set R. Titsworth showed a reversal of form and won after running it up to 7-5. The third set was a battle royal. R. Titsworth forcing his brother to a 11-9 set before he went out of the running. A smashing drive was used continually and effectively by both players with some fast volleys at the net.

In the next mix-up, Pitman proved a stumbling block for Herman Phillips, winning over the noted the track star 6-3, 5-6 and 10-8. Pitman won the first set without mishap but in the second, Phillips forced him to a long drawn set. The third was a long drawn argument as the score clearly indicates, in which Phillips fought stubbornly throughout to keep from being eliminated. Both opponents played a consistent game with heavy overhead work at times.

The first round in both singles and doubles continued today until everyone has had his chance and then with the field narrowed down, some exceptionally fine tennis will be witnessed by spectators.

Didn't Appear in Olympics

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

ARTICLE THREE

New York, August 29—When Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen suddenly defaulted during the British championships at Wimbledon and allowed her world-championship title to pass on to Miss Kathleen McKane without a struggle, it was not abandoned by the tennis officials and when the draw was posted on the scoreboard, the day the tournament opened, Mlle. Lenglen's name had not been removed. In fact, it never was removed. Her default was not marked up, and it was only after the tournament had progressed a round that her name did not appear among the survivors.

Her action in quitting during the Wimbledon tournament on the claim of physical incapacity disturbed her fellow countrymen. France had made a very poor showing in the early events of the Olympic games. Desirous almost seized the Frenchmen when their great rugby team was beaten in the final match by the American team. They were ready to admit that they didn't have a chance for a running, swimming, boxing or track and field championship and their only hope to save the French flag raised at least once during the games, rested upon Suzanne.

She, they thought, was sure of one first place in the women's singles. Miss Helen Wills, the big American threat, had been beaten in London by Miss Kathleen McKane, the British girl, who had fallen a dozen times before Suzanne. Even more was expected of Mlle. Lenglen. They held the hope that she would help win first place in the women's doubles and the mixed doubles, thereby giving France three out of the five first places in the tennis tournament.

Looking for gate money first, last, and always, Allen Muller, the director of the tournament didn't care about the competitors. It has been related how he treated the players. But it was concerned when the tournament got the old razzberry from the public. But Mlle. Lenglen did not play.

The night before the tournament was to open, Suzanne announced that she was not physically able to play. She said her doctor had told her that she would endanger her life if she took any exercise or exerted herself in the terrible heat. American newspapermen in Paris, remembering the comment that followed the resignation of the French girl during her match with Mrs. Molla Mallory at Forest Hills several years ago, suggested that it would not be a bad idea for Mlle. Lenglen to get them a statement from her doctor.

Ike Boone's homer gave the Red Sox an 8-7 victory over the Athletics in the second game after the Sox had taken the first 6-3.

6,000 STUDENTS
HAVE BENEFITED

Extension Training of Teachers in Industrial Vocational Subjects is Great Help

UNDERTAKEN LAST FALL

One of Valuable Features Was Personal Consultation System Adopted for Teachers

By United Press

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 28—Through extension training of teachers in industrial vocational subjects, approximately 6,000 students in vocational classes in nine cities of the state have benefited during the past year, according to an estimate today by officials of Purdue University.

This new phase of extension work was undertaken last fall. Two hundred teachers, all of whom were practical craftsmen, were instructed in methods of teaching vocational subjects.

Classes were held at Indianapolis, Marion, Logansport, Hammond, Mishawaka, South Bend, Michigan City and Gary. The classes of teachers met once a week in these cities and Prof. O. H. Day, of Purdue, was in charge of the course. He arranged a regular itinerary that carried him to each of the cities weekly and during the nine months of the school year he traveled 21,000 miles to meet his classes.

Subjects taught in the various centers included trade analysis, lesson planning, vocational education and counsel methods of teaching, vocational psychology, and vocational sociology.

The teachers in these classes were skilled in the trade or craft they were teaching, but comparatively few of them had had the advantage of attending a college or university.

Prof. Day said: "We tried to take the university to them so they could profit by the methods of teaching used in the colleges and universities.

"One of the most valuable features of the work was the personal consultation system adopted for the benefit of the teachers themselves. We had classes of teachers at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and reached the city at one o'clock and spent the intervening time in the shop with the instructor and went over the problems which he had to face every day with his classes and helped him iron them out right there."

In addition to this work, Prof. Day aided the teachers in establishing closer contacts with industry. He helped several firms organize courses of instruction for their own employees or for persons who would handle their product.

A lathe company at South Bend was aided in organizing a course of instruction to accompany its product to all parts of the world.

Yesterday's Hero Goose Goslin, Washington outfielder, drove in six runs with a homer, a triple, a double and a single and beat the Yankees, 11-6, putting the Senators in first place.

Rogers Hornsby continued his wild hitting with a home run and three singles but the Cardinals dropped a double header to the Cubs at 5-2 and 8-3.

Jess Barnes allowed only three hits in seven innings but two of them came with a sacrifice hit and scored the run that gave the Phils a 1-0 victory over the Braves in the second game. The Phils won the first, 7-0.

Four runs scored on five hits in the second inning gave the Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the Pirates.

Ike Boone's homer gave the Red Sox an 8-7 victory over the Athletics in the second game after the Sox had taken the first 6-3.

Rescued

Here is Lieut. Locatelli, the Italian airman, who, with his three comp-

ions, was rescued by the American cruiser Richmond after tossing about for more than 80 hours in his disabled seaplane in the rough North Atlantic waters. Locatelli, who had obtained permission to accompany the American round-the-world flyers on their trip across the Atlantic, was forced down between Reykjavik and Fredericksdal, Iceland.

There is no doubt but what there are quite a number of violations going on in the state at the present time which are not called to the attention of the board except when an accident occurs and the employee asks for an award, Bynum said.

For Women Only

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, N. Y., Aug. 28—The feminine fashion world may be divided into two eras as far as underwear is concerned—the white lingerie era and the colored silk era.

Not so long ago, women of refinement would include no undergarments in their wardrobe unless they were made of the finest of white linen and embroidered in handwork. They considered silk underwear too "Parisian" and colored underthings lacked the refinement required by the gentlewoman.

Today white undergarments are decidedly passe. The poorest of shopgirls adopt imitations of the flimsy colored silks and wear colored voiles. We sleep in silk nightrobes which would have shocked our grandmothers. These are minus sleeves, and with decolleté necklines. We defy the winter's snow by wearing gauze silk stockings and low satin pumps and seem to grow hardier by doing so.

Whenever something new is brought out in the way of underwear, we take it with a grain of salt and wait until the fadists have adopted it before purchasing it for ourselves. But the flimsier and more colorful it is, the surer it is to remain in style.

Just now the black underthings are being introduced and women have their fingers crossed, waiting to see how these will go with the fashionable world. There are black satin girdles lined in pink georgette, black undervests, step-ins and brassieres. At first, we think, "How terrible to wear black next to the body." But a few years ago we thought it would be terrible to wear colors of any description.

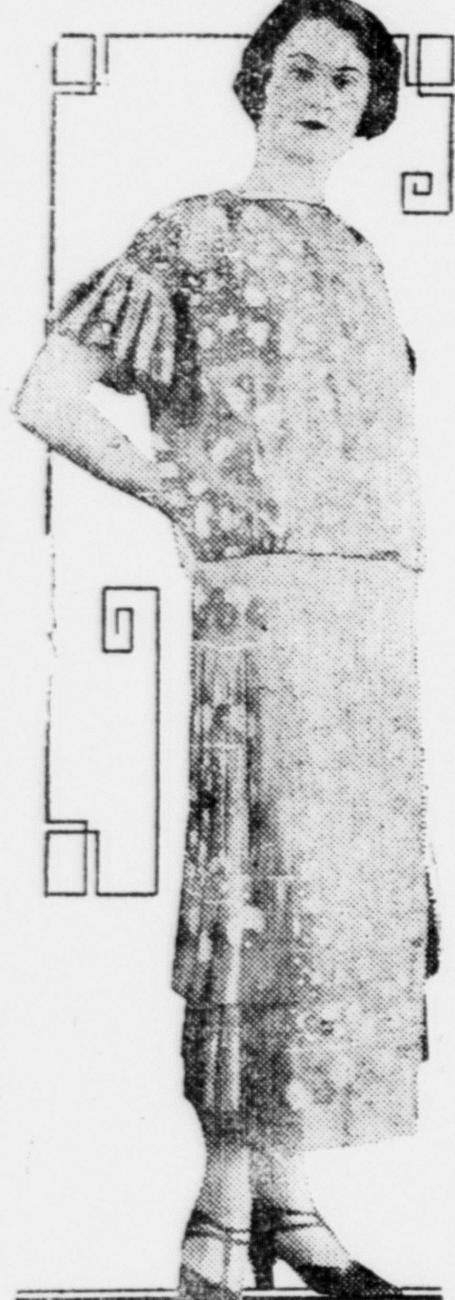

Even white handkerchiefs have passed out of fashion, and today we carry little colored silk or linen squares which match our costumes. Of course, handkerchiefs are small items in the wardrobe, but they show the way styles are changing. No well-dressed woman carries a white lace-trimmed handkerchief these days. On the other hand, her kerchief may be of brilliant red crepe de chene or purple chiffon.

Those who have felt the luxury of silk underthings will never be content to return to cheerless linens. The average woman would rather own one silk petticoat than three cotton ones. And in the long run, the silk garment is, perhaps, the most durable. It is easily laundered, lends itself better to the present slender silhouette, and wears well. It can be recolored at every wash if one wishes. The satisfaction of knowing that one is silk from the "skin" out is well worth the additional cost.

Just now lace is being used more extravagantly than ever on undergarments. Step-ins have volées of lovely lace and are edged about the legs with corresponding lace. Medallion insets are again coming into style and contrasting colored ribbons adorn everything. Costume slips also follow the vogue for lace being scalloped and lace-edged about the hem and with lace volées. Fine pleating is also being used, despite the fact that the first laundering plays havoc with the pleats.

Lingerie silks have a wide range from China silk, crepe de chene, triple silk voile, satin, etc., to the sheerest of georgettes and chiffons. Recently introduced are step-ins which use two

FALSE FIRE ALARM SENT IN

Alarm Boxes Not Guarded During Ku Klux Klan Meeting

The first false fire alarm to be sent in for several weeks, was registered Thursday night at 8:40 o'clock when someone pulled box 48, Oliver and Tenth streets, the Park Furniture factory box, and the fire department made a quick run, but found no blaze.

All three companies answered the call. The bell in the tower did not sound the alarm, as firemen were expecting a false call on account of a Ku Klux Klan meeting on the court house lawn. False alarms are usually common when a meeting of this kind is held, and heretofore the fire alarm boxes have been guarded.

SURGEON OPERATED ON

Dr. Frank H. Green, local physician and surgeon, suffered an attack of appendicitis Thursday afternoon and underwent an operation last night at his hospital. The surgery was performed by Dr. Ruddell of Indianapolis and local physicians assisted. He was reported today to be getting along as nicely as could be expected. Dr. Green yesterday performed three operations at his hospital, and the attack came on rather unexpectedly.

At the notion counters one can buy little tape shoulder-strap confiners, which can be sewn in one's frocks. These come in black and white and have snappers so that when they are attached to the shoulder seam of the frock, they hold the straps of the undergarments secure from view. Nothing is more untidy than half-soiled shoulderstraps showing at the batteau neckline. Dark frocks always have a tendency to fade on one's shoulder-straps and one must be extremely careful to keep these straps from view.

Pajamas lounging robes are both new and interesting. Many of these can be quite easily made by the home dress-maker as they are very simple and rely upon contrasting combination for their charm. Black satin trousers combined with jacquettes of colorful figured silk are very easily made and are as attractive as many of the more ornate models.

TRUCK DRIVER COMMENDED

Indianapolis Fireman Saves Life of John Wright, Age 91

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29—Vernon Hudson, driver of a fire department truck was commended today by city officials for saving the life of John Wright, 91, at the risk of his own.

Becoming confused at the approach of the fire truck, Wright stepped directly in its path. Hudson swerved the truck to one side, crashing into a row of autos parked at the curb.

Hudson and five other firemen were thrown from the truck, but all escaped serious injury.

Wright is a son of the late Joseph A. Wright, one time governor of Indiana.

The defendant then filed a motion for a new trial, and the arguments were heard recently and taken under advisement by Justice Steeck. schooners, the fight between the outraged husband and the trespasser—these are the ingredients tried and true every one, but all of which are capable of quickening the pulse when they are brought out for their full values.

It is said that the story was inspired from Frederic Remington's paintings of the days when the West had a glamour about it.

The idea has been used so often that every incident is obvious. But that doesn't detract from the interest. Indeed with such capable players as Russell Simpson and Robert McKim (both members of the realistic school of acting) carrying out the burdens of the story, one may rest assured that the interpretation hits the high-water mark. These players completely made their identities in their respective parts. Both are natural in every detail. Doreens Matthews as the wife plays with a great deal of understanding. And the youngster who eventually reunites the parents is capitally played by "Pat" Moore. "Out of the Dust" may belong to the old school, but it carries a big punch because of its life-like dimensions.

Wonder Dog at Princess

which had been shown in months in a local motion picture house. Since the release of his first picture, about two years ago, Strongheart has been one of the most popular stars on the screen, and his current production seems to his the fancy of every one.

Perhaps it is because "The Love Master" is not a starring vehicle within the motion picture circles. Strongheart is undoubtedly the leading member of the class by right of the ability he displays, but the picture was not built up around him. The story is the main consideration, and because Strongheart has plenty of things to do and does them in splendid fashion he gains recognition as the star. But evidently he is not jealous, for he seems pleased to share honors with Mrs. Strongheart, registered in the American Kennel Club annals as Lady Julie, and five sons and daughters of his as well as an extensive human cast including Lillian Rich and Harold Austin.

Then there are many thrills. The picture has hardly started before the heroine is caught far from home and safety by a pack of fawnish wolves, and only the speed of Strongheart saves her.

Without money and anxious to fulfill his wife's request that he take his three-year-old baby Roy to her husband's parents in Norway, George Hansen of Pueblo, Colo., set out on foot for New York. Kindly motorists aided him, but in bad-road regions he carried the child in his arms. He found he could work his way to Norway, but they wouldn't take the child. Now Hansen is walking back to Chicago where he hopes to work and save for passage money for the child.

SCHOOL TAX TO BE SIX CENTS HIGHER

Increase in Rushville Regarded Small in View of Decreased Valuations and Improvements

BOARD PREPARES A BUDGET

Actual Amount to be Raised Only $1,307 Greater Than This Year—Courses Are Extended

The Rushville school city's tax rate for next year will be six cents higher than this year, according to the budget and tentative tax levy, which has been drawn up by the city school board.

The estimated expenses for next year will be only $1,307.00 greater than the sum raised in taxes by this year's levy, but the higher rate is necessary on account of a decrease of $279,210.00 in the valuations of property upon which the taxes are levied.

The city school board will meet Monday afternoon, September 8, the day the schools open, at four o'clock to take final action on the proposed budget and levies for the various funds.

If adopted as now proposed, the city school tax will be 92 cents and it will raise $69,219.21. A levy of 92 cents this year is producing $67,912.21.

In view of numerous items in the school budget, calling for increased expenditures, the increase of six cents is regarded as small, especially when it is considered that the valuations for next year have fallen off almost $300,000.

One teacher has been added to the high school faculty for the coming year and three of the city's five school buildings have been repainted. Modern power machinery has been installed for manual training at a cost of $800 and some courses of study have been extended.

Home Economics has been placed on a vocational basis and the physical training course has been enlarged so that it will be available to all high school boys and girls. A course of French has been added and will be offered to juniors and seniors. Besides this, the school authorities find it necessary to buy some library books to comply with an order of the state high school inspector.

The school board budget shows that $29,575 will have to be raised for the special school fund, from which are paid the operating expenses of the schools. The budget calls for the raising of $2,922.99 for the tuition fund, which is for the purpose of paying teachers' salaries. The sum of $5,617.76 is needed in the bond fund to meet fixed charges of $5,500 in school bonds falling due and $400 interest.

Comparison with past years reveals that the school expenses of the city have increased very little, because in 1922 the total amount raised by taxes was $68,682.79 and in 1922, $65,245.27.

Rushville does not suffer by comparison with other school cities; in fact, is far below the average for Indiana. Most of them are above $1.00 a hundred, the average for a group of thirty selected cities being $1.20 in 1923.

Comersville's rate last year was $1.38; Munie's $1.03; Newcastle's, $1.15; Andover's, $1.81; Richmond's $1.28; Wabash's $1.10; Shelbyville's, $1.05; Bedford's $1.57.

MAN ARRESTED HERE FINED

Colonel Hall Will Have to Spend 110 Days in Prison Farm

Colonel Hall, a young man who was employed in this city, and arrested Monday on a complaint from Greensburg charging him with passing a bad check was arraigned in Mayor Jenkins' court in that city Thursday and was fined $100 and costs, amounting to $110.

He was taken to the state penal farm upon failure to pay, and will spend 110 days at the farm. The check was for $5 and given to a taxi driver of that city. The court in Greensburg is not a court of the mayor's and justice of the peace courts here on bad checks, and a few sentences will put a stop to the practice. Hall stated that his home was in Comersville.

Recognition As Hog Production County Sought With Fair Exhibit

Rush county will make its bid for recognition as the leading hog production county of the world with an extraordinary exhibit at the Indiana state fair in Indianapolis next week.

The display was being set up in the agricultural building on the state fair grounds today by Rushville men and will be in readiness for the opening of the fair Monday morning.

Rush county will compete for a first prize of $200 against a number of other Indiana counties, the prize to be awarded to the county that makes the best showing on its principal agricultural product.

The display was prepared by a committee from the Better Rush County organization in co-operation with Herschel VanMatre, county agricultural agent, and represents many weeks of hard labor on the part of the committee in an effort to bring the prize back to Rush county.

The exhibit has been practically complete for three weeks and a number of persons have been permitted to view it and see the mechanical apparatus in operation.

During the week of the Rush county teachers' institute, the teachers of the county were taken to a room on the second floor of the court house, where the display was set up, and it was operated for their benefit.

Will O. Feudner, a member of the state fair exhibit committee, explained to the teachers the purpose of Rush county laying claim to the credit for being the champion hog producing county of the world and impressed upon them how valuable their co-operation would be in teaching their pupils that Rush county had advantages not to be found any place and that it was a fine place to live.

He emphasized that the Better Rush County organization is interested in the school boys and girls, recognizing them as the greatest asset the county has, and wants to make Rush county a better and more attractive place to live, so that they will be induced to remain here after completing their education.

The school teachers were enthusiastic about the exhibit and the purposes of the organization and promised that they would aid with the best of their ability in helping the organization to achieve its aims.

Several Rush county hog breeders, while holding a meeting here a few evenings ago, were shown the display in operation and they were greatly enthused over the prospect of Rush county being placed "on the map" at the state fair.

The exhibit sets out in bold letters, as the picture above discloses, that Rush county leads in hog production, marketing 200,000 hogs annually. A large check is reproduced, setting forth the fact that Rush county farmers receive $3,000,000 annually from the sale of hogs.

DELEGATION OF 26 FROM HERE ATTENDS

Annual Meeting of Rotary Clubs of Group Six is Held at Clifty Falls State Park

RESPONSE BY W. O. FEUDNER

A delegation composed of twenty-six persons, all members of the Rushville Rotary club, and their wives and children, attended the annual meeting of Rotary clubs of group six at Clifty Falls, state park Thursday.

A fried chicken dinner was served for the visiting Rotarians and their guests at the new Clifty Inn, which was formally opened this week, and during the afternoon, the visitors were taken on many of the interesting trails through the state park.

A short program was followed after dinner, at which Robert Ireland of Richmond, governor of the Indiana Rotary district, made the principal address. Will O. Feudner, of this city, former group representative, responded to the address of welcome by Robert Ireland of the Madison club, which acted as host for the group meeting. John Nutter of Jeffersonville, who succeeded Will Suckow of Franklin as group representative, spoke briefly, and Mr. Suckow presided.

The invitation of Shelbyville to hold the group elimination in the state rotary golf tournament was accepted.

WHEELER SEES BLOW AT THE THIRD PARTY

Candidate for Vice President Refers to New Charges by George Remus, Ohio Bootleg King

RETRACEMENT NOT FORCED

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 29.—A blow to discredit the independent ticket lies behind the new charges of George Remus, Ohio bootleg king, it was declared here today by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, vice presidential candidate with Lafollette.

Remus in a sworn statement is credited with having repudiated his former statements made before the Wheeler investigating committee involving former Attorney General Daugherty.

The "Daugherty Gang" is charged by Wheeler with having instigated the new move of Remus and the vice presidential candidate called upon President Coolidge to oust from office the remainder of the Ohio crowd.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 29.—A. E. Sartain, warden of the Atlanta Federal prison, today denied charges of Senator Burton K. Wheeler, that he "forced" an affidavit from George Remus, millionaire Ohio bootlegger, to retract his testimony before the Daugherty investigating committee.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES FOR FALL DISCUSSED

Large Committee is Appointed Thursday Night to Make Final Canvass September 8

FIRST BAPTIST MEETING

An important business session was conducted following the prayer service of the First Baptist church Thursday night. Plans were laid looking forward to the fall and early winter activities of the church. A supper will be spread in the basement of the church on Thursday night, September 8, and the entire membership of the church is urged to attend. At this time several matters of vital interest to the church will be presented for the discussion of the entire membership.

The date for the annual financial canvas was set as Sunday, September 14, and a large committee was appointed to conduct the canvass.

Three delegates, beside the pastor were elected to represent the church in the East Central association meeting at Richmond next Thursday. Three additional delegates will be chosen at a called meeting at the close of the Sunday morning service.

Kept Promise!

It's beginning to look like James E. Ferguson's promise to his dog is going to come true. When "Jim" was impeached as governor of Texas eight years ago, the dog, then only two years old, seemed disconsolate as the rest of the family in leaving the capital at Austin. "Never mind," Ferguson told him, "you'll live to see the Fergisons in the governor's house again." And now Ferguson's wife, Mrs. Miriam E. Ferguson, has won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination—and her fight for "Jim's" vindication. And since Texas is a Democratic state her nomination practically means election. Here "Ma" Ferguson is seen with "Jim's" dog.

PRINCE SETS FOOT ON AMERICAN SOIL

Welcomed From Air, Land and Sea, Young Heir to British Crown Lands This Afternoon

FIRST WORD FROM COOLIDGE

Public Welcome Impossible in New York as He Lands on Long Island in Private Launch

(By United Press)

New York, Aug. 29.—Officially and unofficially welcomed in messages from air, land and sea, the Prince of Wales reached America today.

The sun-bloated waters of New York Harbor reflected a perfect August sky as the giant Cunard liner Berengaria brought the young heir to the British crown to quarantine.

The first official word of welcome was a wireless message from President Coolidge, transmitted from an airplane which soared high above the liner as she nosed her way in.

A public welcome such as would have been had he come to the city was impossible because the Prince, after acknowledging the official greetings, had arranged to assume an unofficial holiday role and go without ceremony to Long Island in a private launch. Only in the eager and incessant comment that ran from month to month—in the numerous pilgrimages to Long Island for a glimpse of Wales passage along the motor choked highways from Oyster Bay—was the public able to express its excitement and pleasure that the most interesting personality of the old world, from the standpoint of the new, had arrived.

For a time, America is to see little enough of the prince for final plans—final unless he himself countermands them—are such that with exception of those who caught a glimpse of him landing at the little Long Island town of Oyster Bay late this afternoon, it will be the people of Washington who first will get a good look at this winning young man with the most interesting prospective job of the old world and the spirit of the new.

Pledge cards have been printed and work of pushing through the guarantors for posts will be actively started next week by the committee. It is expected that between 30 and 40 posts can be acquired, so that the boulevard can be lighted as a "great white way."

UNION SERVICES AT CHURCH

Union services will be held next Sunday evening, at 7:30 at the Main Street Christian church, instead of at the coliseum, as previously announced. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Henry W. Hargett, of St. Paul's M. E. church. Special music will be rendered by Mrs. Neff Ashworth, Dr. Hale Pearsey, Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Hogsett.

TENDS TO DISCREDIT THE ACCOUNTS BOARD

Indiana Highway Commission's Special Audit Repudiates State Examiners' Report

EXCESS PROFITS CHARGED

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29.—The Indiana state highway commission's special audit of O. F. Schleifer's accounts in effect repudiates the audit made by the state account's board, which charged mismanagement and extravagance it was indicated today.

Governor Branch instructed both the commission and the accounts board to deliver him a written explanation of their side of the case after a conference with representatives of the commission and the accounts board today.

The commission's special audit tends to show that Schleifer's profits from purchases of war materials from the commission was entirely a matter of business judgment, it was said.

The special audit was made by private accountants employed by the commission to refute charges of the accounts board that Schleifer had made $50,000 excess profits in transactions with the board.

The fact that he was invading the home of Governor Bryan, Democratic vice presidential candidate to fight against him added color to the trip.

General Dawes starts his fight to win the west on the same platform where Governor Bryan formally accepted the Democratic nomination a few weeks ago.

Plans for the general's stay in Lincoln include only one scheduled speech. This speech is tonight. Several extemporaneous addresses seemed probable, however, in spite of the general's resolution before he left Chicago last night "to take things as easy as they will let me."

Visits with friends, many of whom were in the crowd that gathered at the station to greet him today, also were included in the plans.

EIGHTH STREET IS BLOCKED FOR PAVING

Excavation is Begun for Paving of Short Stretch Connecting Brick With Cement Road

5TH STREET JOB TO BE RUSHED

Work of excavating in East Eighth street, between the city limits and past the Catholic cemetery, is now under way, and the street leading out that way has been blocked to traffic, causing a detour on the Ft. Wayne road.

The contractors expect to rush the concrete paving through and it will be open for traffic soon. The street is blocked at the extreme end of Eighth street, and traffic should go out Eleventh street to avoid the detour.

The steam shovel for excavating Fifth street was to arrive this afternoon and work will start at once on paving this street. The contractors expect to excavate and lay the concrete foundation without delay, and the asphalt layer will be applied on Morgan street and Fifth street at the same time.

WEEKLY TRAFFIC BULLETIN GIVES THE CONDITION OF STATE ROADS

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29 — The narrow, one-way bridge over the Wabash railroad, north of Attica on State Road No. 10 is being razed to make way for a modern grade separation, and soon this traffic hazard will be eliminated, it was announced today by John D. Williams, state roads director, in the commission's traffic bulletin.

Williams called attention that while traffic is using pavement all the way between Indianapolis and Kokomo on No. 1 by aid of two road-side run-arounds at bridge projects near the Hamilton-Tipton county line, it is best to take the detour after heavy rain as these run-arounds will be hard to negotiate. Under ordinary conditions proceed straight through on the pavement.

Detours on No. 21 at Chester account of new bridge work will be lifted on August 29.

State road conditions for the week of August 29—September 5 are set forth in the bulletin as follows:

No. 1—Pavement from Indianapolis to Kokomo but traffic should drive carefully over two road-side run-arounds at bridge projects near the Hamilton-Tipton county line. After heavy rain best to use detour and not run-arounds here. Take marked detour north of Kokomo via Bunker Hill account construction between Kokomo and Peru. South of Indianapolis detour via Dudleytown between Seymour and Crothersville account construction near upper Muscatatuck river. Detour around construction south of Scottsburg, and between Perry and Sellersburg.

No. 2—Surface only fair between Valparaiso and Hamlet. Construction at intersection with new paved road 2 miles east of Whitley-Allen county line.

No. 6—Closed for paving for 3 miles from south edge of Lebanon.

Lebanon-Indianapolis traffic use 33 and 1, or 33 and 15. Closed for paving between New Bethel and Shelbyville, detour via Acton. (Short stretches of pavement open to local traffic near New Bethel and Acton.)

Short detour near Versailles where road joins No. 4, occasioned by repairs to pavement.

No. 7—Closed for about 5 miles west of Peru (portion overlapping No. 1 being paved); detour marked. No. 9—Run-arounds at bridge projects between Clay City and Brazil. Detour west at 4 miles south of Brazil account bridge out.

No. 10—Closed between Patoka and Hazelton; detour marked. Closed at north edge of Sullivan to 1 mile north of Veedersburg account bridge construction; detour to east; detour west at Robroy, thence 2.75 miles to Attica.

Detour at west side of Attica through Williamsport account Wabash railroad bridge construction. Run-arounds at bridge projects between Attica and Roswell. Closed from Dyer to Hammond for paving; detour marked.

No. 11—Bridge out at 1½ miles north of Road 17; roadside run-arounds. Closed for a mile at 3 miles south of Albion; detour good, Open Aug. 29.

No. 12—Traffic drive slow at bridge run-around at 4 miles south of Freedom.

No. 13—Detour 1 mile north of Montpelier account bridge out over Salamonie river. Closed from the Huntington road south of Ft. Wayne to Ossian account construction; good detour. Road-side run-arounds at bridge projects between Ossian and Bluffton. Construction for 10 miles south of Garrett, and for 1½ miles north of Angola to a mile south of Michigan line.

No. 14—Closed for construction north of Tell City. Avoid until completed.

No. 15—While Marion county is paving to county line, leave Indianapolis via N. Meridian street, cross canal on Illinois street proceeding on Springmill road to county line, thence on detour to No. 15. Detour at 2½ miles north of Marion county line account bridge construction. Closed for 3 miles south of Knox.

No. 16—Construction from De Gonia to Lincoln City, and from St. Meinrad to Leavenworth. Traffic from Booneville to Chrisney go via Midway, and from Chrisney to Dale via Lincoln City. No available detour east of Lincoln City. Avoid until completed. Bridge out 1 mile west of Lanesville; run-around. Drive carefully at washout 3 miles west of New Albany. Are You Contented?

AN enterprising publication recently asked thousands of farmers' wives this most personal question: "Are you contented with your lot?" In 94 per cent of all cases the answer was "Yes, decidedly."

Yet, only a decade ago farm life meant drudgery. Today the washing machine and electric iron make quick work of what used to be a formidable task. New utensils speed up the preparation of meals. Dish washing is disposed of in short order. Vacuum cleaners lend their most effective aid. Running water, better cleansers and innumerable household helps lighten, quicken and improve the work.

That is what advertising means to women on the farm. It has brought them countless appliances which help in their work, better conditions in their homes, add to their pleasure and increase their interest in life.

Advertising means as much to you. Advertisements published in this paper continually tell of many conveniences and comforts that you might otherwise miss.

C. I. & W. HAS HEAVY FREIGHT BUSINESS

Railroad Reports Prosperous Summer and Anticipates Heavy Traffic During the Winter

STOCK SERVICE IS FEATURE

A heavy increase of freight business is being noticed daily on the C. I. & W. railroad, and the stock shipping service is taking rapid strides, according to local agents along the line.

The railroad has ordered new equipment, which is now being delivered and other equipment is under construction. The railroad is hauling from 15 to 40 cars of stock from Indianapolis to Cincinnati, Wheeling and other eastern points, on the new fast daily freight service.

Arlington and Rushville both report much stock business to eastern points, and during July alone, 75 cars of stock were handled from this city for points east. The company has already received three of the eight new passenger locomotives, and the passenger engines now in use will be transferred to the fast freight service. Three hundred box cars and 200 coal cars are under construction. Two gravel trains are being run daily putting on new gravel in anticipation of heavy business this winter.

The C. I. & W. recently inaugurated a manifest run from Springfield, Ill., to Cincinnati, leaving the former place at one o'clock in the afternoon and arriving in Cincinnati at six the next morning passing through here at midnight. This train carries nothing but perishable goods, stock, fruit and meats.

Advance—This town is progressing. The only livery stable in town is being torn down to make way for the Advance Poultry Company.

Harford City—Authorities are sorry they sent Frank Neal, 23, alleged store robber, to jail. He has turned poet.

OPEN HOUSE ON SHRINE PROGRAM

Indianapolis Mystic Shrine Extends Invitation to State Fair Visitors Next Week

AT THE MURAT TEMPLE

Visitors Welcome to Rest and Participate of the Hospitality That Will be Offered

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29—The Arabic sheiks are dismantling the portals of their tents in the oasis of Indianapolis and the muezzin in the minaret of Murat temple is calling a repetition of the invitation broadcast by the Potentate, Charles J. Orbison, for all and singular to be guests of the local temple of Shriners in their "open house" hospitality running three days next week. The dates are Sept. 2, 3 and 4 and the hours are from 2 until 9 p. m. each day.

"We just want to be hospitable" Potentate Orbison says. "There are no strings on this invitation. If state fair visitors are tired of hoofing it around, or can't find a place to park themselves, let them come up to Murat temple and enjoy our luxurious divans. Let them see the entire temple thrown open for their inspection and a large reception committee, eager to grasp their hands and make them welcome."

Orbison says he has had inquiries from various parts of the state to this effect: "What's it all about, Judge?" He answers: "It's just this—Murat temple of the Shrine is perhaps the biggest single fraternal body in Indiana. It is sixth in point of membership strength in all Shrinerdom, having nearly 11,000 members and nearly half of this membership is scattered throughout Indiana and elsewhere. We are not only inviting our own membership but Masons who are potential and prospective Shriners. Then we are going a bit farther and extending the invitation to everyone who may be interested. We are proud of our recently enlarged mosque and hope to spread this pride more generally throughout the state. That's all there is—there isn't any more."

On Friday evening, Sept. 5th, it is announced, a reception exclusively for Shriners and their ladies will be held at the temple and this will include a dance and other festivities, inaugurating a series of social affairs for Shrine families which will run throughout the fall and winter.

Seymour—A tourist from Columbus, O., who stopped at the camping grounds here used a twenty-year-old alligator as a "watch dog" to keep away prowlers.

The Last Token

My horse is down with thirst, boys,
The sun it rises higher;
I wish they'd kill me first, boys,
But they're building me a fire.

My heart is not broken, boys,
But my lips are sealed with flame;
Therefore I leave this token, boys,
To tell you I died game.

"OUT OF THE DUST"

"Out Of The Dust" is that rare kind of picture which the whole family may see. If you like thrills which make eyes moisten don't miss "Out Of The Dust." You have seen lots of movies, now see "Out Of The Dust." Tears and laughter, love and hate, sin and remorse, victory

SOMETHING ABOUT THE PLAYERS

"Out of the Dust" — An All Star Cast — because that is exactly what it is. The women particularly know the actors. When you see Russell Simpson and Robert McKim you will say Ah! Oh! — It is wonderful!

True to the principle in showmanship that a production should have all of its values flexible, the cast in "Out of the Dust" is as all-star as a cast could be, with this difference: The players were selected according to their adaptability for the parts instead of only for the advertised value of their names. The result is that you have a combination of both these elements.

Man Loses Hundreds of Dollars

"I am sorry I did not hear of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy a few years ago, as it would have saved me several hundred dollars. Five years I suffered from indigestion and severe bloating. I grew worse all the time. My doctor said an operation would be all that could save me. I took a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy instead and for the past year have been entirely well." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

L. W. Monroe Tells of Recovery From Stomach Trouble That Had Him on Verge of Breakdown.

"Since taking Tanlac I am just like a man made over," recently asserted L. W. Monroe, 2307 West Washington St., Indianapolis, Ind., a well-known machinist at the Big Four railroad shops here.

"Stomach trouble had me so nervous and played out that I seemed to be right on the verge of a complete breakdown. Indigestion caused heart palpitation and shortness of breath. Headaches tortured me. I couldn't sleep, and I was in such a bad way that I was losing two days a week from my work.

Tanlac has put me back in splendid health and I will speak up for it as long as I live. My wife joins me in praising Tanlac, too. She says I come home from my work smelling now where I used to come in looking downcast and all tired out. Any way, I feel fine now and haven't missed a day's work in three months."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

The Great Week in November

The American Legion, the National Education Association, and the United States Bureau of Education are cooperating to bring about the observance of American Education Week by all the people so far as possible. The dates for this year are November 17 to November 23, inclusive. It is hoped that at least some part of the program will be observed in every church and schoolhouse in the land. The exercises will be held morning, afternoon or evening as each community may prefer. The published program is merely suggestive and will doubtless be changed in many ways to meet local conditions.

Constitution Day, Monday, November 17, is designated as Constitution Day, the central idea being: "The Constitution—The Bulwark of Democracy and Happiness."

Patriotism Day, Tuesday, November 18. "The United States Flag is the living symbol of the ideals and institutions of our Republic."

School and Teacher Day, Wednesday, November 19. "The Teacher—the guiding influence of future America."

Illiteracy Day, Thursday, November 20. "Informed intelligence is the foundation of representative government."

Physical Education Day, Friday, November 21. "Playgrounds and athletic fields mean a strong, healthy nation."

Community Day, Saturday, November 22. "Service to the Community, State, and Nation is the duty of every citizen."

God and Country Day, Sunday, November 23. "Religion, morality, and education are necessary for good government."

The tentative program and other material prepared for convenient use Education Week will be mailed free on request to Bureau of Education, Department of Interior, Washington, D. C.

The "Other Fellow".

About 15,700 lives were lost in motor vehicle accidents (exclusive of grade crossing collisions between motor vehicles and trains) in the United States during 1923, an increase of nearly 2,000 over the 1922 record. Grade crossing fatalities make a total exceeding 17,000. This estimate was made by the National Safety Committee of the Automobile Department of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters on the basis of statistics of 135 cities.

It may be all right to insure your car against fire, theft, collision, public liability and property damage, and so long as the accident which may be due to your carelessness merely hurts the "other fellow" you let the insurance company worry about the cost. But if you happen to be the "other fellow" insurance collected by your heirs may not help you in the place to which you go. No insurance has yet been found which will prevent death and injury; hence it pays to be careful.

ONE BEAUTIFUL FEATURES OF THIS CAMPAIGN

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Arthur Cap-

ries presents a specific case for the political analysts to dissect in their study of comparative Coolidge and La Follette sentiment in the great agricultural mid-west.

Capper, leader of the "farm bloc," which preceded the "La Follette bloc" in the Senate, was renominated for the Senate by the biggest lead ever given any candidate for any office at a Kansas primary. This, in a campaign where the cry of the opposition was that Capper should be defeated because he "has not supported the president."

Capper has been one of the most active critics in the Senate of the Esch-Cummins railroad law. He remained "regular," however, in the fight, led by the La Follette forces, to oust Senator Cummins from the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce Committee. But he helped overthrow the presidential veto on the bonus bill and opposed the Mellon tax bill, indorsed by the president.

It was on his opposition to the presidential position on the bonus and tax measures that the fight against his renomination was based. As set forth in Capper's own "Weekly," the battle cry of his enemies was:

"Purge the party of those who have failed to stand by the president."

But the voters failed to heed: Capper won by more than 100,000.

Now the question is that is puzzling the dopesters is:

Was Capper's big plurality the result of a pro-Capper or an anti-Coolidge sentiment?

To whatever extent it was anti-Coolidge, it is viewed as probably actively for La Follette. To the extent it was simply pro-Capper, it is looked upon as receptively inclined to "Independent" proposals.

SECOND only to "detective schools" in number, according to Luther C. Steward, president of the national federation of federal employees, come "civil service" correspondence schools which promise, in return for a sizeable fee, to fit anyone in short order to pass examinations for a position in Uncle Sam's classified service and to land him a job.

"With September just around the corner," says Steward, "and school bells being tuned up to attract seekers of wisdom and instruction, these schools are getting up steam for a fine fall business at the expense of ambitious persons who wish to land government positions."

Any promises held out by such schools for quick and easy employment by the government are somewhat discounted by the fact that the Civil Service Commission itself has found it necessary to issue a warning that such schools have no recognized standing and that:

"Appointment can be secured only through open competitive examination and no school can cause a competitor to be certified for appointment out of the regular order, as determined by examination rating."

A PRECEDENT for the recognition of "mitigating circumstances" in the conduct of persons arrested as "mashers" was established by a Washington police judge the other day.

One of the capital's demure, ununiformed policewomen, while loitering leisurely in the neighborhood of Peace Monument, was accosted by an "auto sheik" who suggested a little spin around the Speedway.

Disdaining his advances, she moved away. Half an hour later, on a corner two or three blocks distant, the same masquerade renewed his attentions.

Spurned again, he tried a third time for luck a little later.

The minion of the law, who had taken the young man's license number, swore out a formal complaint and he was haled to court.

But the judge—well, as nearly as he could sense it, he said, the policewoman, by loitering along the street, had invited the masquerader's attention and got only what might have been expected. Case dismissed!

School days are nearly here and the clothes problem again confronts every parent. School children like to be well dressed, and good clothes are essential to successful work in the class room. Clean, well pressed garments also insure the health of your children. Disease germs thrive in dirty garments and epidemics spread rapidly through contact of soiled wraps in the cloak room. LOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venus-like and immaculate! BRILLIANT PLAY SEEN IN MATCHES

COUNTY TENNIS PLAY IS ON

Pitman Proves Stumbling Block for Herman Phillips, Noted Track Star, Winning Match

Brilliant play featured the opening matches in the first round of play in the open county tennis tournament that started on the Memorial park tennis courts Thursday afternoon.

The playing opened with a singles match between Robert Walton and Barton Cartmel, with both players heartily contesting every point. The first set went to Cartmel 6-4 and Walton reversed the situation in the next set, winning it 6-4. In the last set the battle really began and after a long drawn out set, Cartmel eliminated Walton by taking the third set 13-11. Both players put up consistent tennis at all times.

The next match on the card was played by Franklin Martin of Raleigh and Loren Winkler. Martin was victor in the first set, 6-4, but had considerable difficulty in taking the match, going 9-7 in the second and deciding tilt. Spirited smashing at intervals was witnessed throughout, many of which were netted.

In the third contest of the afternoon between Gordon Armbuckle and Laverne Newkirk, was seen some of the best tennis of the day. Newkirk profiting by several errors by Armbuckle and brilliant driving captured the first set 7-5, but in the next set, Armbuckle with more accurate placing and driving emerged victor of the set 9-7 after Newkirk had victory in his reach several times. The match had to be called off here on account of darkness and will be finished later.

In the early play today, Harold Titsworth defeated R. Titsworth in a fast tilt. H. Titsworth took the first encounter without much trouble, 6-3 but in the second set R. Titsworth showed a reversal of form and won after running it up to 7-5. The third set was a battle royal. R. Titsworth forcing his brother to a 11-9 set before he went out of the running. A smashing drive was used continually and effectively by both players with some fast volleys at the net.

In the next mix-up, Pitman proved a stumbling block for Herman Phillips, winning over the noted the track star 6-3, 5-6 and 10-8. Pitman won the first set without mishap but in the second, Phillips forced him to a deuce set. The third was a long drawn argument as the score clearly indicates, in which Phillips fought stubbornly throughout to keep from being eliminated. Both opponents played a consistent game with heavy overhead work at times.

The first round in both singles and doubles continued today until everyone has had his chance and then with the field narrowed down, some exceptionally fine tennis will be witnessed by spectators.

Didn't Appear in Olympics

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

ARTICLE THREE

New York, Aug. 29—When Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen suddenly defaulted during the British championships at Wimbledon and allowed her world-championship title to pass on to Miss Kathleen McKane without a struggle, she returned to France.

Her action in quitting during the Wimbledon tournament on the claim of physical incapacity disturbed her fellow countrymen. France had made a very poor showing in the early events of the Olympic games. Despite almost seized the French when their great rugby team was beaten in the final match by the American team. They were ready to admit they didn't have a chance for a rowing, swimming, boxing or track and field championship and their only hope to save the French flag raised at least once during the games, rested upon Suzanne.

She, they thought, was sure of one first place in the women's singles. Miss Helen Wills, the big American threat, had been beaten in London by Miss Kathleen McKane, the British girl, who had fallen a dozen times before Suzanne. Even more was expected of Mlle. Lenglen. They held the hope that she would help win first place in the women's doubles and the mixed doubles, thereby giving France three out of the five first places in the tennis tournament.

Looking for gate money first, last, and always, Alton Mahr, the director of the tournament didn't care about the competitors. It has been related how he treated the players. But in was concerned when the tournament got the old razzberry from the public.

But Mlle. Lenglen did not play. The night before the tournament was to open, Suzanne announced that she was not physically able to play.

She said her doctor had told her that she would endanger her life if she took any exercise or exerted herself in the terrible heat. American newspapermen in Paris, remembering the comment that followed the resignation of the French girl during her match with Mrs. Mollie Mallory at Forest Hills several years ago, suggested that it would not be a bad idea for Mlle. Lenglen to get them a statement from her doctor.

This she refused indignantly to do. Her spokesman said that in the past her word and his word always had

The Indians tied the score in the ninth and filled the bases with none out, but failed to deliver and the White Sox won the second game in the 10th inning 7-6, after losing the first, 7-0.

Rogers Hornsby continued his wild hitting with a home run and three singles but the Cardinals dropped a double header to the Cubs at 5-2 and 8-3.

Jess Barnes allowed only three hits in seven innings but two of them came with a sacrifice hit and scored the run that gave the Phils a 1-0 victory over the Braves in the second game. The Phils won the first, 9-3.

Four runs scored on five hits in the second inning gave the Reds a 5-4 victory over the Pirates.

Ike Boone's homer gave the Red Sox an 8-7 victory over the Athletics in the second game after the Sox had taken the first, 6-3.

6,000 STUDENTS HAVE BENEFITED

Extension Training of Teachers in Industrial Vocational Subjects is Great Help

UNDERTAKEN LAST FALL

One of Valuable Features Was Personal Consultation System Adopted for Teachers

By United Press

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 28—Through extension training of teachers in industrial vocational subjects, approximately 6,000 students in vocational classes in nine cities of the state have benefited during the past year, according to an estimate today by officials of Purdue University.

This new phase of extension work was undertaken last fall. Two hundred teachers, all of whom were practical craftsmen, were instructed in methods of teaching vocational subjects.

Classes were held at Indianapolis, Marion, Logansport, Hammond, Mishawaka, South Bend, Michigan City and Gary. The classes of teachers met once a week in these cities and Prof. O. H. Day, of Purdue, was in charge of the course. He arranged a regular itinerary that carried him to each of the cities weekly and during the nine months of the school year he traveled 21,000 miles to meet his classes.

Subjects taught in the various centers included trade analysis, lesson planning, vocational education and counsel methods of teaching, vocational psychology, and vocational sociology.

"The teachers in these classes were skilled in the trade or craft they were teaching, but comparatively few of them had had the advantage of attending a college or university," Prof. Day said. "We tried to take the university to them so they could profit by the methods of teaching used in the colleges and universities.

"One of the most valuable features of the work was the personal consultation system adopted for the benefit of the teachers themselves. We had classes of teachers at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and reached the city at one o'clock and spent the intervening time in the shop with the instructor and went over the problems which he had to face every day with his classes and helped him iron them out right there."

In addition to this work, Prof. Day aided the teachers in establishing closer contacts with industry. He helped several firms organize courses of instruction for their own employees or for persons who would handle their product.

A lathe company at South Bend was aided in organizing a course of instruction to accompany its product to all parts of the world.

This sort of extension work is comparatively new in Indiana and

MANY VIOLATIONS OF COMPENSATION

Investigation Department of State Industrial Board to Combat Violations of Act Suggested

PREPARE TO PROSECUTE

Investigation Department Would Consist of Four or Five Men Who Would Canvas State

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 29—Creation of an investigation department of the state industrial board was suggested today by Dixon H. Bynum, chairman of the board, as the best means to combat violations of the workmen's compensation act in Indiana.

There is no doubt but what there are quite a number of violations going on in the state at the present time which are not called to the attention of the board except when an accident occurs and the employee asks for an award, Bynum said.

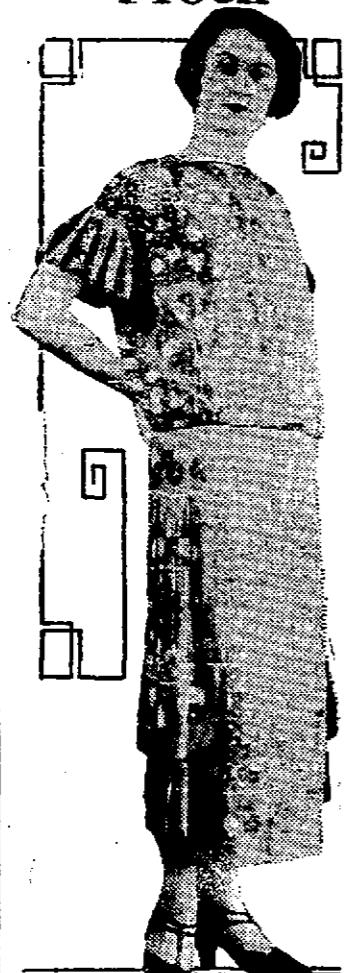

Some violations by farmers have come to the attention of the board recently. Farmers, especially those that conduct employ but a few men and usually only for a short period during the year. As a result Bynum said, some of them feel that it is unnecessary to take out compensation insurance for their employees.

Bynum declared he suspected some violations among small concerns that have but small working forces.

Neither of these classes of employees can be dealt with locally because all cases must be referred to Marion county, Bynum said, and for that reason violations must be investigated by the Board and not by local authorities

FALSE FIRE ALARM SENT IN

Alarm Boxes Not Guarded During Ku Klux Klan Meeting

The first false fire alarm to be sent in for several weeks, was registered Thursday night at 8:40 o'clock when someone pulled box 48, Oliver and Tenth streets, the Park Furniture factory box, and the fire department made a quick run, but found no blaze.

All three companies answered the call. The bell in the tower did not sound the alarm, as firemen were expecting a false call on account of a Ku Klux Klan meeting on the court house lawn. False alarms are usually common when a meeting of this kind is held, and heretofore the fire alarm boxes have been guarded.

SURGEON OPERATED ON

Dr. Frank H. Green, local physician and surgeon, suffered an attack of appendicitis Thursday afternoon and underwent an operation last night at his hospital. The surgery was performed by Dr. Riddell of Indianapolis and local physicians assisted. He was reported today to be getting along as nicely as could be expected. Dr. Green yesterday performed three operations at his hospital, and the attack came on rather unexpectedly.

For Women Only

By HEDDA HOYT
New York, N. Y., Aug. 28—The feminine fashion world may be divided into two eras as far as underwear is concerned—the white lingerie era and the colored silk era.

Not so long ago, women of refinement would include no undergarments in their wardrobe unless they were made of the finest of white linen and embroidered in handwork. They considered silk underwear too "Parisian" and colored underthings lacked the refinement required by the gentlewoman.

Today white undergarments are decidedly passe. The poorest of shopgirls adopt imitations of the flimsy colored silks and wear colored voiles. We sleep in silk nightgowns which would have shocked our grandmothers. These are minus sleeves, and with decolleté necklines. We defy the winter's snow by wearing gauze silk stockings and low satin pumps and seem to grow harder by doing so.

Whenever something new is brought out in the way of underwear, we take it with a grain of salt and wait until the fanatics have adopted it before purchasing it for ourselves. But the flimsier and more colorful it is, the surer it is to remain in style.

Just now the black underthings are being introduced and women have their fingers crossed, waiting to see how these will go with the fashionable world. There are black satin girdles lined in pink georgette, blue undervests, step-ins and brassieres. At first, we think, "How terrible to wear black next to the body". But a few years ago we thought it would be terrible to wear colors of any description.

Even white handkerchiefs have passed out of fashion, and today we carry little colored silk or linen squares which match our costumes. Of course, handkerchiefs are small items in the wardrobe, but they show the way styles are changing. No well-dressed woman carries a white, lace-trimmed handkerchief these days. On the other hand, her kerchief may be of brilliant red crepe de chene or purple chiffon.

Those who have felt the luxury of silk underthings will never be content to return to cheerless linens. The average woman would rather own one silk petticoat than three cotton ones. And in the long run, the silk garment is, perhaps, the most durable. It is easily laundered, lends itself better to the present slender silhouette, and wears well. It can be recolored at every wash if one wishes. The satisfaction of knowing that one is silk from the "skin" out is well worth the additional cost.

Just now lace is being used more extravagantly than ever on undergarments. Step-ins have yokes of lovely lace and are edged about the legs with corresponding lace. Medallion insets are again coming into style and contrasting colored ribbons adorn everything. Costume slips also follow the vogue for lace being scalloped and lace-edged about the hem and with lace yokes. Fine pleating is also being used, despite the fact that the first laundering plays havoc with the pleats.

Lingerie silks have a wide range from China silk, crepe de chene, triple silk voile, satin, etc., to the sheerest of georgettes and chiffons. Recently introduced are step-ins which use two tones of georgette or chiffon, one layer posed over the other. This does away with the transparency of the material and, at the same time, produces softer coloring. Ribbons, which trim these models, are also two-toned.

Black trims everything these days, even to the shoulder-straps on the colored underthings. One no longer has pink or lavender satin straps showing beneath one's sheer frock, unless the frock itself is of those pastel shades. With all dark gowns, the narrow black satin shoulder-strap is being used. For evening occasions silver or gold straps are preferred.

At the notion counters one can buy little tape shoulder-strap confiners, which can be seen in one's frocks. These come in black and white and have snappers so that when they are attached to the shoulder seam of the frock, they hold the straps of the undergarments secure from view. Nothing is more untidy than half-folded shoulderstraps showing at the batteau neckline. Dark frocks always have a tendency to fade on one's shoulder-straps and one must be extremely careful to keep these straps from view.

Pajama lounging robes are both new and interesting. Many of these can be quite easily made by the home dress-maker as they are very simple and rely upon contrasting combination for their charm. Black satin trousers combined with jaequettes of colorful figured silk are very easily made and are as attractive as many of the more ornate models.

In the case of John F. Joyce against Chester M. George, a suit on an account in which the plaintiff demanded $25 attorney fees for representing the defendant in a case in the circuit court, an appeal has been taken by the defendant.

The case was filed in Justice Stech's court by Mr. Joyce and the decision favored him for $25. The defendant then filed a motion for a new trial, and the arguments were heard recently and taken under advisement by Justice Stech. This morning, however, the defendant appeared and withdrew his motion for a new trial, and filed the motion to appeal the case to the circuit court.

MOVIES

"Out of The Dust"

Picturegoers who attend the showing of "Out of the Dust" at the Castle theatre today and Saturday, are certain to rub their eyes and gaze in amazement at a film which goes back to the pioneer days of the industry and the West at the same time. This is not saying that the picture bears the stamp of early production methods. Far from it. The offering depicts a story which was the "baby" of them all. The military post, the rampaging redskins, the forlorn wife of the captain who leaves the desolate camp with picturesquely trapper, the dance halls, the ambush of the prairie schooners, the fight between the outraged husband and the trespasser—these are the ingredients tried and true every one, but all of which are capable of quickening the pulse when they are brought out for their fall values.

It is said that the story was inspired from Frederic Remington's paintings of the days when the West had a glamour about it.

The idea has been used so often that every incident is obvious. But that doesn't detract from the interest. Indeed with such capable players as Russell Simpson and Robert McKim (both members of the realistic school of acting) carrying out the burdens of the story, one may rest assured that the interpretation hits the high-water mark. These players completely made their identities in their respective parts. Both are natural in every detail. Doreas Matthews as the wife plays with a great deal of understanding. And the youngster who eventually reunites the parents is capitally played by "Pat" Moore. "Out of the Dust" may belong to the old school, but it carries a big punch because of its life-like dimensions.

which had been shown in menus in a local motion picture house. Since the release of his first picture, about two years ago, Strongheart has been one of the most popular stars on the screen, and his current production seems to his fancy of every one.

Perhaps it is because "The Love Master" is not a starring vehicle within the motion picture circles. Strongheart is undoubtedly the leading member of the class by right of the ability he displays, but the picture was not built up around him. The story is the main consideration, and because Strongheart has plenty of things to do and does them in splendid fashion he gains recognition as the star. But evidently he is not jealous, for he seems pleased to share honors with Mrs. Strongheart, registered in the American Kennel Club annals as Lady Julie, and five sons and daughters of his as well as an extensive human cast including Lillian Rich and Harold Austin.

Then there are many thrills. The picture has hardly started before the heroine is caught far from home and safety by a pack of famished wolves, and only the speed of Strongheart saves her.

Crawfordsville—Oscar Straub got back to eating again when his false teeth which he had swallowed were recovered.

Decatur—Mrs. Anna Werling, of near New Haven is dead from injuries received when her dress got caught in her washing machine and she was thrown to the floor.

Fate Unkind After Hardships

Without money and anxious to fulfill his wife's dying request that he take his three-year-old baby Roy to her husband's parents in Norway, George Hansen of Pueblo, Colo., set out on foot for New York. Kindly motorists aided him, but in bad-road regions he carried the child in his arms. He found he could work his way to Norway, but they wouldn't take the child. Now Hansen is walking back to Chicago where he hopes to work and save for passage money for the child.
